Annual report on the activities of the Committee of Good Will – Olga Havel Foundation for the year 2011

The Committee of Good Will – Olga Havel Foundation is a member of the Czech Donors Forum – Association of Foundations and the SKOK association of non-profit non-governmental organisations active in the fields of social services and healthcare

Mission

The mission of the Committee of Good Will – Olga Havel Foundation is to help people who, because of their poor state of health or social status, find it difficult to participate in society or cannot care for themselves without other people’s assistance. Through its activities, the Foundation aims to foster spiritual values and education, defend human rights and promote generally acknowledged humanitarian values.

Goals

The Committee of Good Will – Olga Havel Foundation

- The Foundation’s primary objective is to support social and healthcare services that help people at risk of social exclusion claim their dignified place in society.
- In particular, the Foundation supports civic associations and charities that provide social services for abandoned and disabled children, the homeless, women in need, seniors, and people recovering from illness and injuries, plus organisations that work to alleviate people’s suffering during illness and that provide support during the trying moments of one’s final days.
- The Foundation also runs its own programmes in support of education for socially disadvantaged or disabled children. Every year, the Foundation presents the Olga Havel Award to a person who despite his or her disability is engaged in helping others.
- The Foundation collaborates with other NGOs in working to enhance the quality of social and healthcare services and safeguarding human rights.

The principles that guide the Committee of Good Will – Olga Havel Foundation

- Foundation grants must be distributed in an effective manner with a view to their long-term impact. Their distribution must be done with an eye towards the “weak points” in social, healthcare and educational policy, and should provide financial support in places where nobody else is providing funding or which suffer from a lack of sufficient funds.
- In publicising our activities – for instance by providing information on our aims, principles and realised objectives – we always acknowledge the people and organisations that have contributed to realising these goals, as well as those who work for the Foundation behind the scenes or as volunteers.
- May all our activities, projects, campaigns, research, and collaborative efforts show the Foundation as an organisation that acknowledges the human dignity of all people, regardless of whether they are rich or poor, or whether they live freely and independently or are dependent on the help of others.
- May the Foundation’s grants help to find new and effective solutions to difficult life situations, and may they first and foremost go to programmes focussed on prevention and intervention, thus helping to improve the future prospects of children, adults and families. The Foundation also promotes meetings and dialogue with non-profit non-governmental organisations with similar objectives.
- Our Foundation endeavours to support civil society and to promote social changes that will help to integrate people at risk of poverty and social exclusion. Recently, we have also focused on “participation” – i.e. on involving socially disadvantaged and/or disabled individuals in the making of decisions that affect them.

The Committee of Good Will – Olga Havel Foundation and Civil society

The Committee of Good Will – Olga Havel Foundation (the “Foundation”) traces its origins back to early 1990. The Committee of Good Will was registered as a voluntary association on 12th April 1990. The Foundation was re-registered on 23rd September 1992.

Since its founding, it has been an important financial resource for the needs of non-profit, non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and individuals in the area of social welfare and healthcare. The Foundation has also played an important role in supporting civil society as represented by the NGOs and academic institutions with which it systematically cooperates.

In this manner, the Foundation ensures continuous access to information about the needs of the non-profit sector and of social service recipients. Based on these needs, the Foundation designs various grants in the areas of healthcare, social services, and education.

The Foundation is engaged in research into the education of disabled individuals with the aim of providing them with equal opportunities; it also provides educational services such as scholarships for gifted students from children’s homes, disabled students and/or students from low-income families, plus specialized seminars for doctors and healthcare and social welfare workers.

The Olga Havel Award represents the annual climax of the Foundation’s activities during the first half of the year. The award is presented to disabled individuals who are engaged in helping others. At the same time, the awards ceremony offers an opportunity to thank our donors, co-workers, and project organizers in all the areas in which the Foundation is active.

Since its beginnings, the Foundation has undertaken to appeal to society’s moral conscience and to draw attention to shortcomings in the state’s social policy and in the work of social, healthcare, educational and other institutions. It is also dedicated to helping NGOs in their efforts at integrating disabled, ailing, elderly and abandoned individuals – people who are discriminated against and at risk of social exclusion.

In accordance with Act no. 227/1997 on foundations and endowment funds, on 14th December 1998 the Foundation was registered in the Foundation Register administered by the Municipal Court in Prague, section N, file 69.

BASIC INFORMATION ON THE FOUNDATION

Basic information on the Foundation 74

Dear friends,

Here we present to you the Annual Report on the activities of the Committee of Good Will – Olga Havel Foundation for the year 2011. I have no doubt that even the brief listing of our activities and related figures will be a source of consolation at this time when the word “crisis” can be so often heard. Many non-profit organisations are truly experiencing the degree to which the state is jeopardising the well-established system of social services that has been developed over the last two decades. The state fails to allocate appropriate funds in support of the efforts made by social services providers who assist those who due to various disadvantages cannot achieve productiveness and prosperity in our society without outside help. This “crisis” also challenges each of us in terms of our humanity, empathy, responsibility and willingness to share. These are positive challenges and the Foundation tries to meet them with a positive response. On behalf of our board of directors I would like to thank all those who work at the Foundation and also all of you, without whose understanding and support we would be faced with much more severe crisis – that of humanity. I wish you all good will and the strength to share and carry each other’s burdens.

*Yours sincerely
Dana Němcová*

Social, healthcare and humanitarian programmes

Within this area of support, we seek out projects that promote the process of social integration and that are realised by civic associations, public benefit organisations, charities and diakonias.

Pathways to Integration

The Pathways to Integration programme addresses the urgent needs of people with disabilities. The Foundation's board provides grants to individuals and to organisations that provide services for such individuals at home or through outpatient and inpatient services.

Prioritised are disabled children living in low-income families. The programme does not fund organisations' operational costs or wages, purchases and repairs of automobiles, disabled-access alterations of private houses and flats, and assistance services.

In 2011, the Foundation spent 1,526,120 CZK from company and individual donations for these purposes.

The nationwide "There Can Never Be Enough Kindness" collection (account no. 625625625/0300) is one source of funding for the Pathways to Integration programme.

In 2011, the proceeds of the nationwide collection provided 645,239 CZK for compensational and physical therapy aids.

As part of the Pathways to Integration programme, we provided foundation grants to 778 individuals, children, and adults with physical handicaps.

THESE COVERED: 3 wheelchairs • 71 hearing aids/speech processors for cochlear implants • 61 physical therapy aids • 16 contributions for tuition • 3 software and other computer accessories • 1 musical instrument • 34 various other aids for physically disabled individuals

Senior

When it comes to providing care and support for the older generation, the Foundation supports the hospice movement and projects that help people who wish to stay active in their old age, as well as projects that provide support for abandoned seniors or for individuals suffering from long-term illness.

Senior grants are distributed twice a year in March and October. In addition to the Senior Fund, the Foundation receives funding for senior projects from inheritances and from the proceeds of the Benefit Concerts of Good Will regularly organised by the KŠB law offices at the start of the Christmas season.

In 2011, we distributed a total of 2,810,610 CZK for a diverse range of projects organised by NGOs as part of the Senior programme.

Programme coordinator: Eva Kvasničková

New Family

The New Family programme was crucial in the mid 1990s when foster parenting was not sufficiently supported by the government and the state's preferred policy was to place youngsters in children's homes.

This trend has changed and foster parents now enjoy the state's support as well as that of the general public. The Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs is now also implementing a new policy regarding the care of children at risk. In 2011 we financed the tuition fees of only a few foster families.

In 2011, the amount distributed among foster families and organisations involved in caring for abandoned children amounted to 22,694 CZK.

Ordinary Life

Report on the utilisation of interest from the Foundation Investment Fund (NIF). This programme funds social projects by NGOs aimed at helping people at risk of social exclusion find their way back to a normal life.

The programme is financed from NIF interest in the foundation's assets. Target groups are eighteen-year-olds getting ready to leave children's homes and institutions, homeless and unemployed individuals, street children and women and children who have been the victims of violence.

In January 2011, the Foundation announced a call for grant applications for projects by social prevention organizations for children, youth and adults at risk of social exclusion. On 19th April 2011, the Foundation's board of directors decided on the distribution of grants from NIF interest among 23 non-profit organisations:

Healthcare

Sasakawa Asthma Fund

The Sasakawa Asthma fund, which has enjoyed the Nippon Foundation's support over many years, funds grants aimed at asthma bronchial prevention in children, educational programmes for parents and teachers of these children and at the development of supplementary treatment methods.

In 2011, we used the interest from the assets deposited in our American bank account by The Nippon Foundation to cover travel expenses for a group of children suffering from serious forms of asthma, who spent a diagnostic stay at High Mountain Hospital Davos (see "Magic Hill" below), to pay for recuperative holidays for asthmatic children, for establishing an information centre, for the purchase of pulse oximeter, and to publish the SAAD information bulletin on asthma.

Total expenditures in 2011 for activities offering a better life to children with asthma and allergies amounted to 926,022 CZK.

Education

Education Fund

One central Foundation programme is the Education Fund, whose general partner is the ČSOB bank. The programme finances scholarships for disabled children and youngsters from children's homes or from socially disadvantaged families.

In order to be eligible and remain eligible for a scholarship, students must maintain good grades and take an active approach to their studies. Students receive the scholarship until graduation as long as their average grade does not drop below 2 (a B grade). In 2011, we provided scholarships to a total of 65 secondary school and university students aged 26 or under. Of these, twelve completed their studies in 2011. The Foundation also provided single grants to nineteen students for learning aids, school fees, compensational aids and other needs.

In 2011 ČSOB and the Foundation organised a competition for the Education Fund students called “Very Good Work of Art”. The goal of the competition was to support socially disadvantaged or disabled students in their creativity and encourage them to submit their paintings, musical recordings, photographs, poetry or jewellery. The jury selected and awarded the three best works.

Advisory board: Ljuba Václavová (chair), František Kopecký, Milan Pospíšil, Vladimíra Rattayová, Jan Stolár, Pavlína Folovská-Housová, Milena Černá; secretary: Eva Kvasničková.

Over the course of 2011, the Foundation spent a total of 1,382,523 CZK. Of this amount, ČSOB contributed 1,162,000 CZK. The difference between donations and expenses was covered by unallocated donations.

Salzburg Medical Seminars

In 2011 the Foundation continued administering the participation of Czech doctors in the prestigious educational project Salzburg Medical Seminars organised by the Open Medical Institute in collaboration with the American Austrian Foundation.

In 2011 we received a total of 198 applications by Czech doctors for 29 seminars in various medical fields, out of which 74 applicants from 15 locations in the Czech Republic were selected. Paediatric and cardiological seminars were among the most sought-after.

In order to disseminate the knowledge from the Salzburg Medical Seminars, the Foundation organises annual Prague seminars led by the past participants of Salzburg seminars which are open to doctors, NGO representatives and the wider public. In 2011 we organised a lecture titled “Allergology and Medical Immunology” – Recent Progresses” with Dr. Vojtěch Thon from University Hospital Brno who had participated in the “Pediatric Allergy & Immunology” seminar in Salzburg, and a lecture by Dr. Kateřina Bláhová, a general practitioner and past participant of the “Family Medicine” seminar. Her lecture was titled “Healthy Lifestyle as Prevention against Civilisation Illnesses & Vaccination – Pros and Cons”.

The project costs amounted to 108,534 CZK.

“I very much appreciate that I could meet with colleagues from other European countries and together reflect upon who we encounter as our patients, as the likelihood of meeting patients from different cultures has been increasing. It was also interesting to find out that, across nationalities, our views of working with patients are very close, the difference being only the accessibility of certain psychiatric medication or examination methods. The core, however, is very much the same.”

Communitas pro praxis

In 2011, the Foundation commenced its active involvement in the Communitas pro Praxis project in which several foundations have joined forces.

The goal of the project is to create a network of partnerships between the Faculty of Arts of J. E. Purkyně University and various public and non-profit entities through fellowships for students in partner institutions. In 2011, the Olga Havel Foundation, together with the VIA Foundation and the Partnership Foundation created a platform in order to define the fellowship concept. The platform members also developed a concept of workshops concerning community projects in civic society, collaboration between foundations and universities, research in the field of fundamental social issues and on designing an e-learning programme for J. E. Purkyně University students.

In 2011, the project costs amounted to 28,693 CZK.

Project coordinator: Eva Kocnárová

Medical journals

Since 1990, the Foundation has been receiving professional medical journals from their publishers which are then made freely available to Czech doctors.

In 2011, the Foundation provided the National Medical Library with medical journals published in the United States (Diabetes, Harvard Health Letter and Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal) that help to keep our doctors' level of education up to date. A big thank you to all the publishers!

Project coordinator: Jitka Horáková

Magic Hill

Since 2005, the Foundation, together with the High Mountain Hospital in Davos, Switzerland, has been organising three-week diagnostic and treatment stays for Czech children suffering from asthma bronchiale.

In 2011, fourteen children from the Northern Bohemian region participated in this stay. The group of children, aged between seven and thirteen, was accompanied by our volunteers Kristýna Chudlařská and Monika Váňová who also acted as translators. The children were selected with regard to the Clinic's rules in collaboration with Dr. Jiří Kuneš, Dr. Josef Hingar, Dr. Josef Sakař and Dr. Petra Jelínková. A carefully prepared and diverse education programme was provided by the pedagogical team headed by Christian Cafilisch. Czech ice-hockey player from HC Davos, Josef Marha, along with his family, visited children during their stay. Czech-German translations of medical reports were possible thanks to Dr. Jan Kastner's assistance.

The project costs that amounted to 40,812 CZK in 2011 were funded from the Sasakawa Asthma Fund. Other costs were funded by the High Mountain Hospital in Davos from a bequest of an anonymous Czech-Swiss donor.

Runners of Good Will

In 2011, almost 300 runners participated in the PIM series of races, the Babický Trail ¼ Marathon, the Jizerská 50, the Iron Man competition in Great Britain and the Dresden Marathon.

Their participation raised over 500,000 CZK. The Runners' patron Jan Škrabálek represented the Foundation in numerous races including the Red Bull X-Alps; Jan Krédl and Jan Odehnal hopped the Hervis ½ Marathon 2011 to help the disabled and entered the Czech Book of Records; Pavlína Folovská-Housová participated in the Cho Oyu charity expedition in the Himalayas. The Foundation was represented at the sports events by individuals and the staff of numerous organisations (e.g. ČSOB, EC Harris s.r.o., TBC Dent, ING, Skřivánek language school, Enviros, Mediatel, Renault-Truck, Sulko, Law Offices KŠB, Dr. Tichý Dental Practice). The largest support came from ČSOB. A total of 232 runners from ČSOB took part in the PIM footraces in 2010 and 2011 and the bank decided to donate 257,660 CZK to the Foundation, a sum equalling the total amount paid for the registration fees. Material donations in support of the project were made by Hervis Sport a móda s.r.o., Adidas, Nutrend, H.E.A.T., Namche, Directalpine and inSPORTline.

In 2011, the project costs amounted to 249,075 CZK.

Campaign

“Hopping for Help”

The year 2011 was marked by the launching of the “Hopping for Help” campaign which enhanced the publicity of issues regarding disabled people. We also continued to inform the public about other long-term projects of the Foundation.

As part of the “Hopping for Help” campaign, volunteers Jan Krédl and Jan Odehnal hopped the Hervis ½ Marathon Prague on one leg on behalf of the disabled, and entered the Czech Book of Records. The campaign continued thanks to Pavlína Folovská-Housová who decided to climb the world’s sixth highest mountain – Cho Oyu in the Himalayas – and to organise a charity collection for disabled students.

Numerous volunteers were involved in the campaign’s preparations: a video titled “Gladiators” was filmed by Aneta Kaderková, Martin Lisý and Lubomír Krupka. The production of another video, “Seized by Blocks” involved Aneta Kaderková, Miroslav Hyrman, Adam Ligocki, Roman Voženílek and Tereza Konaříková. A trailer for the “What Peaks Can You Reach?” contest was filmed by Jan Kolář, Jan Dvořáček and Luboš Langhammer. The www.odskacemesitozavas.cz website was designed by LineArt and Pavel Ovesný. Consultations on the Foundation’s Facebook presentation were provided by Pavel Prouza from BrandzFriendz. Photographs for the campaign were taken by volunteers Karolina Granja, Macciani and Otakar Macák.

The campaign was very well received and covered by numerous media, including Czech Television, Czech Radio, TV Nova, TV Metropol, Fajn Radio, Beat Radio, the Lidové noviny newspaper, Deník newspaper, běhej.com, Miloš Škorpil School of Running and Impuls Radio.

The Foundation continued with the promotion of its long-term projects. The 2011 Olga Havel Award traditionally attracted large attention of the media. The Foundation continued its collaboration with Czech Radio, Medical Tribune, Interní medicína pro praxi, Economia and Newton Media. New media partners of ours include TV Metropol, Fajn Radio and the MediPool website.

In 2011 we organised a travelling exhibition of photographs of Olga Havel. The exhibition was presented at the Masaryk University campus in Brno, at Častolovice chateau, the Museum of Central Bohemia in Roztoky and at the Eurocentre in Jablonec nad Nisou. 33 photographs depicting the beginnings of the Foundation were taken by professional photographers Ondřej Němec, Přemysl Fialka, Gabriela Čapková, Zdeněk Chrapek and others. The exhibition’s goal is to revive the memory of Olga Havel and to remind the public of the beginnings of fundamental changes in the field of care for people with disabilities, seniors and the ill, which have taken place since 1989. In 2012 the exhibition will be presented in Slovakia.

Magazine

“Good News”

The year 2011 was the third in the history of the Foundation’s electronic magazine Good News. It is now a quarterly; this year’s issues were released in March, June, October and December) and were twelve (in March thirteen) pages long.

The main theme of this year’s first issue was volunteering; 2011 was announced as the European Year of Volunteering in support of active citizenship. The Foundation presented its volunteers and the projects initiated by them.

The second issue was released after the Olga Havel Award ceremony and featured the award laureate Věra Strnadová, people who were specially acknowledged by the Foundation and photographic documentation of the whole event. The issue also included an interview with board member Ivan M. Havel who stated that being a good example is absolutely crucial for the development of civil society.

Healthcare was the theme of the third issue of Good News. The interview presented Michael Ohnmacht, director of the High Mountain Hospital in Davos, Switzerland, where Czech children with asthma from Northern Bohemia come for treatment every year. Past participant Dr. Vojtěch Thon spoke about the Salzburg Medical Seminars and how beneficial they are for Czech doctors. The Foundation has been administering these seminars since 2000; the number of Czech doctors who have participated in them has reached 1100.

The last issue of 2011 was dedicated to the arts and artists engaged in charity work. Photographer

Jiří Šourek presented his 2012 calendar of important personalities. The original prints for the calendar had been sold at an auction the proceeds of which were donated to the first Czech children’s hospice in Malejovice. This issue also covered the 17th annual Benefit Concert of Good Will organised by Legal offices of Kocián Šolc Balaščík the proceeds of which are donated to the Foundation.

The regular sections of the magazine presented donors whom we thanked for their support, some of the organisations that had received our funding, people who work for the Foundation and events organised by the Foundation, including upcoming events.

The magazine was sent to 2 000 addresses; the editing and copyediting was done by Monika Granja and Zuzana Hanušová in collaboration with volunteer Irena Šatavová. The authors of graphic design were volunteers Pavel Cindr and Lukáš Fritz.
